

Debs Gets Ten Year Term for Draft Attack

Socialist Leader Released on $10,000 Bail Pending Hearing of Appeal

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—Eugene V. Debs, charged with violation of the espionage act, was sentenced to ten years in the Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary on each of three counts of the indictment found by Federal Judge Westernhaver here today. The sentences will run concurrently.

Motion for a new trial was overruled. A motion for arrest of sentence also was overruled.

The court admitted Debs to $10,000 bail, with permission to leave the northern Federal district of Ohio only, to go to and remain at his home. A writ of error to the Appellate Court was granted.

In imposing sentence, Judge Westernhaver said:

"I do not regard the idealism of the defendant as expressed by himself as any higher, purer, nobler than the idealism of thousands of young men I have seen marching down the streets of Cleveland to defend our country."

"I cannot accept the attitude of mind of any one who claims any right to dispense anybody from observing the laws of our land for the protection of peace and safety while thousands of young men are defending the country against the common enemy.

"Any one who strikes the sword from the hand of those young men or causes another young man to refuse to do his duty when called to serve, or any one who obstructs the recruiting service, does just as much injury and wrong to our country as if he were a soldier in the ranks of the German army."

Following the motion for a new trial and the court's refusal, Judge Westernhaver asked Mr. Debs if he had anything to say why sentence should not be imposed upon him.

Mr. Debs spoke for thirty minutes. He asked for no mercy and said he had no fault to find with the conduct of the trial. He resented the manner in which the names of Rose Pastor Stokes and Kate Richard O'Hare had been handled during the trial.

He said he had devoted his life to the cause of the downtrodden, and is opposed to the form of our present government and our social system and believes in a change in both by peaceable and orderly means.

"Nation's" Editor Sees Burleson About Ban

Decision on Restoring Weekly to Mails Expected Monday

(Special Dispatch to The Tribune)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of "The Nation," the current issue of which was withheld from the mails by the New York postal authorities yesterday, had a long conference with Postoffice Department officials today in an effort to have the ban lifted from his publication.

After the visit of Mr. Villard it was learned that no decision had been reached in the case. Following the customary policy of the department to withhold all information about banned publications, the reason for the barring of "The Nation" from the mails was not made public.

It is known, however, that Mr. Villard conferred with Judge William H. Lamar, solicitor of the Postoffice Department, and with Postmaster General Burleson in his effort to adjust the difficulty. Information as to whether

The Weather Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Reports from west of the Rocky Mountains are missing to-night. To the eastward pressure is generally low, except in the extreme Northwest, where it has risen considerably, following a broad trough of low pressure that extends from the Southwest, states northward through the lake region, attended by light rains to the northwestward. There were also rains Friday night in the Pacific states, with a heavy fall in Northern California. Elsewhere fair weather prevailed.

Temperatures are much below the seasonal average in the Northwest and quite high in the Southwest, where they range from 85 to 100. Over the Eastern half of the country they were moderate. There will be showers Sunday and Monday in the Ohio Valley, Tennessee and the south, with lake region on Sunday night and Monday into the middle Atlantic states and Western New England. In the South fair weather will prevail. It will be cooler Sunday in the lake region and the Ohio Valley.

A tropical disturbance apparently central this afternoon a short distance northeast of Nassau is moving north or north-east.

Winds for Sunday and Monday—North Atlantic: gentle to moderate variable winds, fair. Middle Atlantic: gentle to moderate variable winds, probably becoming northeast and increasing Sunday night over southern portion, east of longitude 75, with rain. Southern Atlantic: northeast to north, probably increasing by Sunday night over northern portion, with rain.

Forecasts for Special Localities.—Pennsylvania: Partly cloudy Sunday; Monday, probably showers and cooler.

Western New York, partly cloudy Sunday; Monday, probably showers.
